Truman Signs New Social Security Bill

Maximum Payments Increased; Ten Million More Persons Covered

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(INS)—President Truman today signed into law a bill increasing maximum social security payments from $85 to $150 a month and extending coverage to an additional 10 million persons.

Important Provisions

The measure liberalizing the social security program would:

1. Increase government checks for three million persons now receiving benefits, beginning October 1.
2. Boost payroll deductions on a rising scale over the next 20 years to meet the increased cost of the program.
3. Cover an additional 10 million workers bringing the total eligible for government benefits to more than 45 million.

It is the first major revision of the government's social security system since 1939, and the most far-reaching domestic legislation enacted by the 81st Congress.

Average checks for those now receiving old-age benefits will increase by an average of 7 1/2 percent. The maximum payment to a family will be hiked from $85 to $150 a month and the average benefit for an individual will increase from $36 to $46 monthly.

The minimum payment for a worker is doubled from $19 to $39 each month. Average payments for future beneficiaries will be doubled.

First Increase Cost

The first effect of the increased cost of the program will be felt beginning January 1 when the first $3,600 of a worker's pay will be taxes. Under present law, only the first $3,000 is subject to the one and one-half per cent withholding tax.

There will be four step-ups in the payroll tax in the next 20 years for both the worker and his employer. In 1954, each will pay a 2 per cent tax; in 1960, 2 1/2 per cent; in 1965 3 per cent and in 1970, 3 1/2 per cent.

The cost of the program which is two and one-half billion dollars a year now will reach approximately $7,800,000,000 in 1970.

The increased coverage of 10 million workers beginning January 1 will make eligible for old-age insurance 4,700,000 self-employed persons, one-million domestic servants, 850,000 regularly employed farm helpers, a million and one-half employees of state and local governments who are not now covered, and persons who work for non-profit organizations.

Benefit Increase Automatic

Congress made important changes in the Social Security Act, including an increase of about 77 per cent for those already receiving benefits, according to Myron

See Renewed Diplomatic Offensive By Kremlin

By GEORGE MOISE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The United States interprets two new Communist charges today as the opening guns in a renewed Kremlin diplomatic offensive.

Latest attack is a charge by the Communist Chinese government that American B-29 Superfortresses attacked at least three cities in Chinese Manchuria, across the Yalu River from North Korea. The Chinese Reds claimed that three persons were killed, 21 injured, and considerable material damage done in the raids.

The Chinese complaint followed by two days a Russian protest against the freeing for good behavior of Japanese war criminals. The Russian note, received by the State Department Friday, protested that Gen. MacArthur had "violated agreed decisions on Japan" by allowing some war criminals to be freed on parole.

New Offensive

A State Department official said that the Russians declared that MacArthur "did not handle the situation correctly and that all of the freed Japanese should be put back in jail."

Both the Russian and Chinese notes are believed to be the first attacks in a new offensive aimed at hitting the United States diplomatically in every way possible, particularly during the Korean war.

The official added that there was no doubt that further blasts would follow, in line with the Communist tactic of "punching the other fellow in the nose and then accusing him of starting the fight."

The Chinese note, reported by the Chinese and Moscow radios, has not yet been received by the State Department. It reportedly demands that the airmen "responsible for the attacks be punished."

Will Combat Malik's Move

Closed Door Battle In Security Council

By PIERRE J. HUSS

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Aug. 28.—The security council will fight Soviet Delégate Jacob Malik's behind closed doors today as any attempt to give official recognition in the annual report to the assembly to the Soviet claim that the U. N. acted illegally in Korea.

The 11 delegates are devoting a private session beginning at 3 p. m. to this report, which they expect to complete and endorse despite Malik's objections and expected demands that the council acknowledge invalid procedure during June in the absence of Russia and communist China.

The fact that the annual report to the assembly covers only from June 30 to June 30 of each year will save Malik from the probably embarrassing observations

Statement By Gen. MacArthur Is Suppressed

President Orders Formosa Statement To Vets Withdrawn

By ROBERT G. NIXON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—President Truman ordered Gen. Douglas MacArthur not to permit publication of a statement on U. S. policy toward Formosa, but through a snafu today, the entire MacArthur statement was made public.

MacArthur had prepared a 1,500-word statement on the necessity to defend Formosa from a Chinese Communist assault and had forwarded it to be read to the national encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at 11:30 a. m. (EDT) today.

After the statement had been released to newsmen and carried on press association wires, MacArthur requested the VFW that his message should not be read because he had been "directed" to withdraw it.

Withdrawal Order

The White House announced that the withdrawal order had been made by President Truman personally, and coupled this with a statement that Mr. Truman is, and must be, the only voice of the United States government in the pronouncement of official foreign policy.

In the meantime, however, the U. S. News and World Report, a privately published weekly magazine of national circulation, had placed the entire text of the MacArthur statement in its magazine.

The magazine was off the press and in the mails at the time Mr. Truman ordered the withdrawal. It was delivered today to subscribers and many newspapers decided to print the MacArthur text as carried by the magazine.

Already in Print

Presidential Secretary Charles Ross made the announcement of the White House position on the MacArthur statement, and was told that the text was already in print.

Ross was asked: "Would an edi-

Message From Gen. MacArthur Is Withdrawn

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—(INS)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur's abrupt withdrawal of his 1,500-word message to the Veterans of Foreign Wars national encampment prompted speculation today that the commander of the United Nations forces in Korea acted on direction from the White House.

The message has been sent from Tokyo for release at 9:30 a. m. (CST) (11:30 a. m. EDT) today when it was to have been read by Clyde A. Lewis, commander-in-chief of the VFW, at the opening of the organization's national convention in Chicago.

MacArthur cabled Lewis: "I regret to inform you that I

Railroads Are Operating Under Army Supervision

By PHILLIPS J. PECK

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The nation's railroads functioned smoothly under Army supervision today, but behind the scenes management and labor accused each other anew of negotiation lethargy. Both management and union spokesmen reported that Army control of 195 U. S. rail lines entered its second day with a hitch. However, the spokesmen failed to agree on anything beyond that point.

Railroad spokesmen charged that the unions have adopted an "uncompromising attitude" and pointed to their refusal to accept a compromise proposed by Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman last week.

Could Be Settled

Union officials, in turn, asserted that the wage-hour dispute which prompted President Truman to

Barn Struck By Lightning, Loss Is $10,000

Lightning struck the barn of A. S. Mast, an Amish farmer, located on the New Wilmington-Volant road about three-quarters of a mile east of New Wilmington, Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The barn was completely destroyed by fire, along with better than 1,000 bushels of grain, 40 tons of hay, farm machinery and equipment. Mr. Mast and friends were able to get all of the horses and cattle out of the barn in time to save them.

Total damage was estimated at $10,000 to $12,000 by Fire Chief George Brown of the New Wilmington Volunteer fire department, which was able to help save adjoining buildings from destruction.

No insurance was carried, it is reported.

There was no rain at the spot where lightning struck, though there were showers in New Wilmington and other surrounding areas.

Order Eleven Red Leaders To Be Jailed

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(INS)—Eleven communist leaders convicted of subversive conspiracy were ordered jailed today by the U. S. circuit court of appeals.

The communist leaders, convicted last year of conspiring to teach and advocate the overthrow of the government, will be sent to jail in 30 days.

In a 2-1 decision with Chief Justice Learned Hand dissenting, the court upheld U. S. Attorney Irving S. Saypol's motion to remand the communists on the grounds that they are still engaged in the activity for which they were convicted last October.

All have been at liberty under bail. The 30-day period of grace was given the members of the Communist party politburo to file an appeal to Supreme Court Justice Jackson in Washington.

Heavy Attacks In North Korea By Superforts

(BULLETIN)
TOKYO, Aug. 28.—(INS)—A B-29 air fleet blasted the modern Songlin steel plant in North Korea today with 500 tons of bombs in the second Superfort strike at the enemy's big basic steel industry in two days.

The raid followed Sunday's B-29 assault on the Kyomipo Iron Works which has declared to have suffered "crippling damage."

TOKYO, Aug. 28.—(INS)—B-29 Superforts went out "in considerable force" today against enemy targets in North Korea.

The new B-29 strike came after a Sunday in which B-29s inflicted "crippling damage" against a vital iron works and Navy pilots destroyed 11 Yak fighters.

A Far East Air Force spokesman in Tokyo announced today's B-29 strike but gave no details. F-80 jet fighters and F-51 Mustangs took to the air at 5:30 a. m. even before the last B-29 on a

Claim Chinese Red Armies Now In North Korea

TAIPEI, Formosa, Aug. 28.—(INS)—Chinese Nationalist intelligence authorities stated today that it has been definitely established that three Russian-equipped Chinese communist armies crossed the Manchurian border into Korea last month.

They added that eight other Chinese communist armies, two cavalry divisions and one artillery division totaling 270,000 men are now massed on the Yalu river frontier of North Korea.

(Editor's note: The Chinese Nationalist report is one of many during recent months saying that Chinese communist troops either have or are about to join the North Korean invaders.)

It is in this same Yalu river area that the Chinese government claims U. S. and British airplanes have crossed the frontier, attacking three towns and conducting aerial reconnaissance missions.

Probing Attacks Toward Pusan Also Repulsed

Believe Enemy To Center All Efforts On Drive On Pusan

(Far Eastern Director, T. N. S.)

TOKYO, Aug. 29.—(Tuesday)—South Korean forces, reinforced by American troops, halted two Red offensives on the east wing of the front Monday night after enemy columns plunged through Uihung and Kigye and into Pohang's outskirts.

A telephone report from the battle zone said the United Nations forces apparently had enough strength to save the port city and its key airfield six miles to the southeast.

The report described the Pohang front as quiet after halting of the Red drive. No Communist reserves were sighted.

Repel New Attacks

Along Korea's south coast, U. S. infantry, artillery, planes and warships teamed up to repel three new Red probing attacks and smash at enemy forces massing for an expected big push toward vital Pusan.

In the center of the 120-mile battle perimeter, other air-supported U. S. ground units broke up three further Red efforts to gain bridgeheads across the Nakdong river southwest of Pivotal Taegu.

And in the air, a B-29 armada hammered for a second straight day at North Korea's steel industry. U. S. navy surface and air units claimed a record one-day bag of 48 North Korean vessels sunk or disabled.

A spokesman at Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Tokyo headquarters said there was every indication the invading forces have been ordered

Withdrawals In Korea Are 'Now At End'

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Aug. 28.—(INS)—Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker declared today that "the day of withdrawal is past" and the enemy's current offensive is his "last gasp."

The American commander of United Nations' forces in Korea called upon Allied troops to "tear him (the enemy) apart now so our road to victory will be that much surer and quicker."

Walker, a veteran officer who served under the late Gen. George S. Patton Jr., sent a message to officers and men of the South Korean army in which he said:

"It is my belief that an over-extended enemy is making his last gasp while the United Nations forces daily are becoming stronger and stronger."

"The time has now come for everyone to stand in place and fight or advance to a position which will give us a greater tactical advantage from which the coming counter-offensive can be launched."

Back in the early days of spring the news was mighty good, the rookies ran the bases fast, they used the hickory wood, they fielded well, they knew the signs, the manager wore a grin, he knew it was his year all right, the team as good as in. But here it's getting late and now the team is in dumps, the kids are bad, the ones I mean who last spring looked like trumps. The manager is aging fast, his hair is turning gray, and we is him the team is down. We's 34 today.

Expect Huge Fund Bill To Get Approval

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(INS)—The senate is expected to pass and send to the White House today the house-approved conference compromise 36.1 billion dollar appropriations bill—largest in the nation's history.

Little debate is anticipated on the mammoth one-package money measure.

At the same time, the senate appropriations committee begins hearings behind closed doors on the house-passed 16.7 billion dollar emergency bill, rushed to Capitol Hill to meet the Korean war costs and those of threats of war elsewhere.

The one-package bill carrying 36.1 billions in cash and contract authority, with the pending 16.7 billions and the standing appropriations for such things as interest on the public debt brings the total to 60 billions—a record for a year in which the United States is not in a major war.

YOU SHOULD KNOW

The Salvation Army was able to offer emergency assistance to a little old man who had lost just about all he owned in this world.

Fire suddenly leveled the little wooden homestead in which he had been living by himself for nearly four years. The clothing he wore as he appealed to the Salvation Army for help was borrowed.

He was without immediate financial means to purchase new clothing and food. Each of these needs were met by the Salvation Army, one of the 12 local agencies of the New Castle Community Chest.

ROBERTS-GOODKNIGHT CHARMING CEREMONY

Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Goodknight, nee Jeanne Helen Roberts, are honeymooning at Virginia Beach, following an impressive late summer wedding which united them in marriage on Saturday, August 26.

The Methodist church in Edinburg was the setting for the rite, with Rev. Harry Johnson officiating, using the double ring service. Candles were on either side of an opened white Bible in the pulpit, and the church altar was attractively decorated by Mrs. Francis Simonton with flowers furnished by Mrs. Vane D. Johns.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Roberts, Edinburg. Mr. Goodknight is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Goodknight, R. D. 4, New Castle.

Given in marriage by her father, the lovely bride was attired in a white embroidered nylon gown over white taffeta. Her dress was styled with a high, jewel neckline, cap sleeves, the skirt having a bustle effect that extended to a point at the hemline. She wore mits that matched her gown and a hat of white illusion with shoulder-length veil. Gardenias, stephanotis and ivy marked the white Bible she carried.

Mrs. James J. Schwalm, Cleveland, O., the bride's sister, who served as matron of honor, was attired in a gown of blue, embroidered nylon over white taffeta, fashioned similarly to the bride's with a bow in the back. Her hat was of blue illusion, and she wore mits that matched her gown. She carried a nosegay of yellow pompons, centered with gardenias.

Robert L. Nelson, Ellwood City, the groom's brother, served as best man, while James J. Schwalm, Cleveland, O., the bride's brother-in-law, and William Throop, this city, acted as ushers.

The candlelight ceremony took place before a tastefully appointed altar, decorated with vases of white gladioli, palms, ferns and branched candelabra.

Preceding the exchange of vows, Mrs. Jay L. Reed, organist, offered a recital of music. Mrs. Reed also accompanied the Misses Grace and Pearl Lipp who sang "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life," "Through the Years" and "The Lord's Prayer." Organ music was softly resounded during the ceremony.

After a congratulatory period, near relatives and a few close friends of the families were entertained at a delightful reception in the church lounge.

Upon returning from a trip to an undisclosed destination, the young couple will reside in the Belvedere apartment, this city.

The bride, a graduate of New Castle High school and the Robert Morris School of Business, Pittsburgh, has been employed in the accounting department of the Universal-Rundle Corp.

MOOD CHANGING IN KOREA

Changes have occurred in the military situation in Korea in recent days. And the mood of the American forces there—not the official mood, which has been optimistic all along, but the mood of the men doing the fighting—has been changing with it.

Just a few days ago correspondents were being told that the Communists might be able to "throw one more punch" at the defenders of the United States beachhead. That meant that the enemy had the strength for still another major effort to smash the line somewhere, roll up the broken ends, and shove the Americans and South Koreans into the sea. Now the belief along the central front is that the back of the Communist offensive has been broken.

Nor is that all. Privates as well as generals have told American correspondents that when the United States counter-offensive starts it will go right through the North Koreans to the 38th parallel without a stop, and beyond unless checked by orders from above. And they expect it to begin within a few weeks.

Men on the battle lines can be more pessimistic than the facts warrant because they do not see the whole picture. U. S. forces were gloomy and bitter a month ago when the high command was confident that the beachhead would be held. Their present view may be as much too bright as the other was too dim. But they can support it with reasons.

Chief among these reasons is the fact that all Communist drives so far have been blunted before they reach a vital spot. Recent desperate thrusts have been thrown back with heavy losses. Meanwhile more manpower has been arriving and new weapons are coming with the fresh men.

The GIs have seen defeat averted. The buildup for victory is going on before their eyes. If they have only the North Koreans to deal with, they have the situation under control.

PLENTY OF FOOD

One thing which Americans apparently do not have to worry about in their supply of food, even in a situation which is not officially called war bears most of the practical marks of war.

There are adequate stocks of most foods. This does not take into account the stored "surplus" foods owned by the government, which so far still present a marked problem and apparently are to remain in government storage.

The Department of Agriculture says that the outlook for 1950 crops is definitely good, with some exceptions for specific crops which will not materially detract from the general picture.

This is in sharp contrast to the usual outlook for a nation which must divert any major portion of its energies and supplies to a military effort. That usually means short rations at home. The nation in which war takes place is much worse off in every way, including that of food supply. Not only does it lose its immediate food supply to the armies, but the tramping of war also destroys the crops which would provide the next year's food. Agriculture may be so damaged and disrupted that years will be needed to restore normal production. This might well be the result of the present fighting in Korea.

Whenever the fighting in Korea is over, food is likely to be needed there. Fortunately the United States can be able to supply some of the need, while the Communist neighbors of North Korea cannot. This ought to give us one future advantage, if properly exploited.

THE GAME OF 'I SPY'

A North Korean lieutenant colonel who surrendered to American infantrymen on the front north of Taegu, confirms the secret Communist agents are attached to each Red Korean unit in the role of political commissars. Many other officers and men in his outfit wanted to surrender, he said, but were kept from doing so by fear of these agents.

The lieutenant colonel's story provides another vivid contrast for Americans. Armed Forces of the United States have no commissars, no secret agents, no impedimenta or excess baggage of political nature. Officers are in full command and need not consult a spy from headquarters before issuing orders. Theirs is the right to direct their troops solely on the basis of orders from higher military quarters and the exigencies of each situation.

Just what the secret agent or agents attached to this particular lieutenant colonel's unit will do because of his surrender is a question. Maybe he will write an apologetic note to Moscow. Maybe he will just sit and sulk. But more likely he will be dealt with by spies who were spying on the spy himself. Where there are secret agents, there must be higher secret agents, and you only have to go so far up the line until you get summary action—perhaps the last. The Reds are expert at liquidation.

The government has come out against hoarding, unimpaired of all those eggs stored in a Kansas cave.

The shortest distance between any two points is that between the first Monday and the last Saturday of your vacation.

There is more money in circulation than ever before. The citizen, seeing it coming and going, will regard "circulation" as an understatement.

Television has cut conversation in the home 50 per cent, according to a survey, apparently wiping out father's 20 per cent and reducing the better half's by 30 points.

Makings Of National Scandal

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28—If the facts were known about the lack of American stockpiles of critical materials, there would be the makings of a national scandal. Like so many other grim truths in this town, they are classified secret. This serves at least to keep the figures from the public. Whether it keeps them from Russian intelligence is another and much more doubtful matter. The deficiencies are so glaring, and the figures on production and consumption so widely published, that probably anyone with a pencil and paper could come close to the answers.

On July 23, 1946, congress passed a stockpiling law with the expectation that the munitions board would acquire, over a five-year period, stockpiles covering minimum requirements. These minimum requirements, according to a report of the munitions board for January, 1949, would "do no more than ease the desperately critical shortages that might otherwise block our war production completely."

Such minimum requirements, estimated to cost $3,773,000,000, were based on certain optimistic assumptions. It was assumed, for example, that a continuous flow of large quantities of materials would be available, and obtained, from overseas sources in a third world war. During 1942 and '43 German submarines repeatedly reduced the flow of critical materials to a trickle, threatening to shut down war industries. Today, Russia is estimated to have twice as many subs as the Nazis and, of the improved Schnorkel type.

Only 30 Percent

On January 23 of this year the munitions board reported that only 30 percent of the minimum stockpiles had been acquired. Half of this total came from surplus government stocks. Half of the surplus came from World War II and JCA purchases. This meant that only little more than 15 percent of the minimum goal had actually been bought by the munitions board in three and a half years. The stockpile at that point contained materials valued at only $1,149,000,000.

A month ago the munitions board reported that it had acquired 38.4 percent of minimum requirements. Another 12 percent was reported to be "on order." And, incidentally, what a familiar sound that phrase "on order" has. It was used to cover up woeful deficiencies in the 1940-41 period—a period remote in history when America still had time to re-arm while other nations bore the first wave of attack.

Shocking as it is, this over-all percentage does not reveal the seriousness of the present situation. Some materials on the list of 71 different commodities to be stockpiled are of far more critical importance than others. Such minerals as manganese and chrome are examples. Manganese must go into every ton of steel that is made.

Serious Shortages

It is in these super-critical fields that the most serious shortages are believed to exist. If many American ships were sunk in a major war, these shortages would cripple vital war industry to the point of a shutdown.

Yet even now, insofar as I have been able to discover, steps to remedy these deficiencies are not being taken with anything like the urgency required. It has been said that this is the "phony war" phase of the present conflict. If that is true, it should be added that we are still in the period of phony defense.

Little or nothing has been done to develop domestic sources of strategic minerals to replace, or at any rate to supplement, foreign sources. That involves paying a premium price, and it also means cutting across established patterns of trade dominated by large and powerful business.

Woeful Deficiencies

In May of this year Representative Wesley A. D'Ewart of Minnesota, in a speech on the floor of the house, pointed to the woeful deficiencies in stockpiling. He recommended the creation of an independent agency "to commence immediately and carry out an intensive, all-out 10 to 12-year government-financed program, designed and geared, to have private enterprise explore, develop and mine the nation's undeveloped mineral deposits and expand existing operations."

It was almost a very late when that recommendation was made; late particularly with respect to the need to keep skilled labor in the mines. Even though the most precious of commodities, time, is running out very fast, it still may be too late.

The economics control bill passed by congress contains a provision authorizing expansion of industry with government help to get new production. That is a beginning. But because of the foot dragging in the past, a new agency is probably essential for the required push and zeal it will take.

BABY WATCHES GRANDDAD

Baby and Granddad are pretty good friends. She can wrap him around her little finger. He is a hard old guy but she doesn't know about it.

There are troubles around the corner for both. They have trouble with their teeth. She is getting some and he is losing some. She needs lots of protein and lime. Granddad does too.

It seems that the beginners and enders of life need about the same kind of food.

Granddad will probably have a stroke some day and baby will be lonesome.

That is the way of the world and it is a pretty good way.

Seeing Liechtenstein

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

VADUZ, Liechtenstein, Aug. 28.—About the first thing I saw in this country, aside from an Alp, was a pin-up beauty of a cow strolling along with a milk stool perched between its horns.

I poked the guide in the ribs, pointed, and said, "That looks exactly like a milk stool on that cow's head to me."

"That's what it is, all right," the guide answered, and he answered just as if cows with milk stools for hats were as common as cows without such adornment.

Later investigation on my part revealed that cows of which there is one for every two inhabitants of Liechtenstein which do extra well in the milk and butter producing business are honored by being allowed to wear a stool for a headpiece.

At this writing I have been in Liechtenstein less than six hours, having come by sightseeing bus from Zurich this morning, but already I have seen much more of the country than I have of the United States in some 43 years. A man could stay here for a long week-end and qualify as an authority on the place and turn out books on it.

Since I crossed the border of this principality this morning I have explored the capital, Vaduz, from end to end, as well as all the other principal cities—Schaan, Triesen, Triesenberg, Balzers, Steg and Malbun.

Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT

(Copyright 1950, By The Baltimore Sun)

Still Politics As Usual

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.

It is said Administration politicians are somewhat aghast at recent reports that Mr. Truman has lost the confidence of the people and that Democratic election prospects have diminished. Because he acted so well at the time of the Korean invasion and because of the general popular desire to support the President in a foreign war, they had anticipated the reverse. Now, they are seeking the reasons.

There are several quite obvious ones but unquestionably outstanding is that in a time of national peril when belief that the President has risen above personal and political considerations is essential to confidence, there is nothing whatever upon which to base that belief—quite the contrary. The cold truth is that in the last two months while the people have been deeply distressed by the bad news from Korea there has been irrefutable evidence that so far from rising above the "politics as usual" level the White House is playing partisan politics to the clear detriment of the national interests. This is a rough thing to say about a President in such a period, but the facts cannot be denied and the more fully they are grasped by the people the sooner, perhaps, the situation can be changed.

The most brazen piece of Truman politics was the appointment as Ambassador to Mexico of Mayor O'Dwyer, of New York, thus driving out of the service a distinguished career diplomat. The established facts are these—this deal was engineered by Mr. Eddie Flynn, boss of the Bronx and Democratic national committeeman for New York. Besides gratifying Mr. O'Dwyer's desire for a soft berth outside the country (for which he is qualified neither by experience nor ability) this would not interfere with his liberal New York city pension, though very difficult to reconcile with the moral responsibilities inherent in his election only last year. The primary purpose of the appointment is to enhance Democratic chances to gain control of the New York State government. A mayoralty election in November to fill the place made vacant by the retirement of Mr. O'Dwyer, undoubtedly does this by insuring a much larger vote in heavily Democratic New York City. Everybody agrees about that.

The supine connivance of Mr. Truman in this unsavory scheme is disappointing to those who hoped to see him measure up to the standards one has a right to expect of the leader of a great nation in a national crisis. But this is not the only instance of "politics as usual" in the White House since the war began. In two other directions, politics distinctly has influenced the Truman course. One of these is in the matter of rigid economy in non-defense expenditures. The urgent necessity of this is not disputed. Mr. Truman himself has talked about it several times. But when it comes to action, he flinches. Senator Byrd, his own friend, Senator Douglas, of Illinois, and Senator O'Connor, of Maryland, all of whom support him on every defense request, have pointed out perfectly practical ways by which billions can be saved on nonessentials and have pleaded with him to join with them—or let them join him.

To this his response has been feeble in the extreme. He has made some halfhearted gestures and given economy in domestic affairs plenty of kind words. But there he has stopped. He has utterly failed to supply the White House leadership, without which no real cut in governmental cost can be made. It is impossible not to ascribe this failure to inability to resist the spending groups with whom he is politically affiliated and to the cockeyed advice he gets from his Fair Deal economic counselors. This is particularly bad when everyone, except his economic counselors, recognizes that the basic essential to our military strength is financial soundness.

The other direction in which politics seems to prevail is in the presidential handling of the vital problems of inflation. Months ago Mr. Baruch pointed out that inflation is the most dangerous enemy we have, that it can be controlled only through price control and price control is impossible unless ceilings are placed, among other things, on wages. Everybody except Mr. Truman's economic counselors and the union labor bosses with whom he is allied agreed about that. Yet, from doing anything about controlling wages Mr. Truman shrinks just as his predecessor shrank. Mr. Baruch asserted—and no one has denied—that failure to control wages along with profits added a hundred billion dollars to the cost of the last war.

Mr. Roosevelt tried to hold down wages by entering into a voluntary "no strike" agreement with the labor bosses. This agreement was violated more than 5,000 times during the course of the war. Already strikes are threatened in the automobile industry and another general wage raise demand is in the works. Nothing could promote a ruinous inflation more surely. Mr. Truman must know this, but apparently has no intention of standing in the way. This is politics of the kind every citizen has a right to resent—and is a fool not to.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

As you probably all have read, George Bernard Shaw recently gave his letter carrier who had delivered his mail for twenty-six years, an autographed photograph on which he had written "To Arthur James Dear without whose services I would be a nobody."

While somewhat exaggerated, there is nevertheless quite a bit of truth in this sentiment. Even if Mr. Arthur James Dear, and his father before him had not delivered Mr. Shaw's mail faithfully, Bernard Shaw would still have found his way to fame. Merit, talent, genius, do not depend on the mail-carrier alone. But, at the same time, there are many people, most of them unassuming, unknown, who contribute to one's success and often even to one's very life.

Let us say you go on a Sunday ride in your automobile. To you it is just a powerful thing on wheels with, as you vaguely know, a motor inside.

You don't give that motor any thought. You think only of the pleasure to yourself. But that automobile is the product of a thousand brains and hands. Even one of its innumerable parts is the handiwork of the brainchild of someone, to paraphrase Bernard Shaw's words, "without whose services" that car "would be a nothing."

Let one of those parts go wrong, let one of them be defective—your very life would be in the hands of some negligent workman who will ever remain anonymous to you.

There are millions of workmen, thousands of secretaries, clerks, teachers, nurses and heaven knows how many other categories, without whose help all of us would be nobodies.

Imagine yourself all alone—just you and that vaunted self-reliance of yours, that something which makes you so proud, so sure of yourself, that great "I" which is you.

No doctor, no plumber, no butcher, no mechanic, no drug dealer, not one of all those modern helpers on which you so confidently rely.

How long would it be before you would cry out for help? How long before you would realize how badly you need all those people without whose services you would be a "Nobody?"

(Copyright, 1950, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Hereby perceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us; and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren. But whose hath this world's goods, and seeth his brother have need, and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in him.—1 John 3:16.

Hunting Tags
Ready FridayLicenses Available
On September First

Lawrence county hunters are advised that the new licenses for 1950-51 will become available at the county treasurer's office on Friday, September 1.

New regulations are in force this year, County Treasurer Don I. Neal states, and will be observed to the letter. First, the prices for resident hunters is $3.15 and for non-resident hunters it will be $20.

Applicants must establish their identity. The bringing in of last year's tag will not be sufficient, as a hunter might have moved outside the state in the meantime and be trying to take advantage of the cheaper rate for resident hunters. Secondly, every applicant must apply for his license in person and sign the application in the presence of the issuing officer.

Youths under 16 years of age must be accompanied by their parent and must also sign the application.

No license will be issued without fulfilling the above requirements, the county treasurer states.

REGISTRATIONS EVEN

Registrations at Ellwood City on the two days of special registration held Thursday and Friday were about even, Chief Clerk A. Lewis Conn reports.

A total of 122 voters were registered, 59 of whom registered Republican, 60 registered Democratic and three registered non-partisan. A special effort was being put forth by the CIO Political Action committee to get voters registered. It was stated.

COMPROMISE DAMAGE ACTION

Approval was given by Judge John G. Lamoree of the compromise settlement made in the suit brought by Walter Jenkins, a minor, by Dorothy M. Henry, his mother, and George K. Henry, his step-father, as guardians ad litem, and Dorothy and George Henry in their own right, against Ralph E. Shiner, Jr., growing out of an automobile accident on Croton avenue December 22, 1949.

In this accident, Walter Jenkins was struck by Shiner's car and suffered a fractured skull and other injuries. Expense of $1,891.85 was claimed by the parents, who were awarded that sum, and Walter Jenkins was awarded the sum of $1,500, which is to be paid to the Lawrence Savings & Trust Co., as guardian.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

There was a bit of a mix-up at the Colony Florist Shop in Meadstown the other day: wrong cards attached to two imposing floral wreaths. The one that went to a druggist moving to an expensive new building read: "Deepest sympathy," the one intended for the funeral of the town's leading banker read: "Good luck in your new location."

That old cynic, Henry Mencken, claims that a woman will go to any length to attract attention to herself. He cites the case of the maiden in a sorority house who showed up at breakfast with a new engagement ring on her finger. To her disgust, none of the other girls noticed it, despite all her squirmings and gesticulations. In desperation, she finally proclaimed, "Good grief, it's stifling in here. Guess I'll take off my ring."

Heavy Attacks In North Korea By Superforts

Eight intruder mission returned to its base. Weather was reported "generally fair" Monday in all sections of Korea.

Points In Air Action

Key points of Sunday air action: 1. Carrier based Navy flyers reported tersely they "spotted, strafed and destroyed 11 shiny new Yak fighter planes" they found camouflaged on the ground at Yonpo airfield. Air Force pilots bagged four more new Yaks. Navy also sank five North Korean ships and badly damaged 13 more ships.

2. B-29 Superforts dropped 240 tons of high explosives on the Japan Iron Works at Kyomipo (Kenjiho), described as the "major producer of iron and steel for the North Korean forces". They also hit other targets, mostly important bridges, with nearly 160 tons of bombs.

3. Fifth Air Force planes flew more than 260 combat sorties, about half of them in "direct support" of ground forces on the flaming battlefield.

A sub-chaser, three large tankers and a corvette were listed as sunk by Navy airmen. Nine Corvettes were "damaged and carrying supplies were 'left burning and in sinking condition'."

Navy pilots also were credited with wrecking 19 locomotives and 31 freight cars, and damaging six locomotives and 16 freight cars.

Superfort pilots back at their bases in Japan related how the huge Japan Iron Works at Kyomipo, 20 miles southwest of Pyongyang, reacted when hit with 240 tons of explosives.

STATEMENT BY GEN. MacARTHUR IS SUPPRESSED

for who prints the MacArthur statement be regarded as hurting the war effort."

He replied: "Editors must be guided by their own judgement."

The White House made it clear that MacArthur had exceeded his authority by seeking to enunciate United States foreign policy.

It said that this also applies to Navy Secretary Matthews, who made a speech in Boston last Friday night calling for a "preventive" war.

Not Cleared

The White House said this morning that, in both instances, the speeches had not been referred to the White House or State department for clearance, and were in direct contravention of an order issued by the president three years ago.

This order directed that all speeches or official pronouncements by government officials that referred to foreign policy be cleared either by the State department or the White House.

However, the White House stated that no disciplinary action is being taken either against MacArthur or Matthews.

MacArthur's speech had been transmitted to Chicago to be read before the national encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. It was not delivered because MacArthur informed Clyde A. Lewis, commander of the VFW, that he (MacArthur) had been "directed" to withdraw it.

LONG-TERM DEFENSE: $25 BILLION A YEAR

LONG-RANGE DEFENSE expenditure figures submitted by Defense Secretary Louis Johnson in Washington run to around $25 billion a year (circles). How they would be divided among services is indicated below.

order any seizure of the lines, effective at 5 p.m. (EDT) yesterday, could be settled "in short order if the railroad presidents would address themselves to the business at hand."

The seizure order, issued Friday, drafted to forestall a nationwide strike by the 300,000 members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors.

The two rail unions, which called off their scheduled walkout after Mr. Truman publicized his seizure order, also renewed their pledge to keep the trains moving.

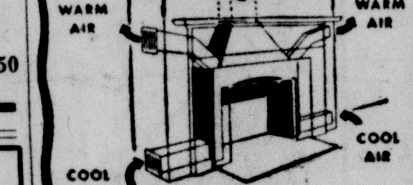

Both union and management officials declared that they are ready to resume negotiations but said they know of no immediate plans to reopen the session. Union informants said it may be late this week before any such attempt is made.

The seizure order took effect without formal ceremonies. In fact, officials of the lines will continue to operate them under government supervision and the general public probably will be unaware of any change in administration.

Pressman Admits He Was Member Of Communist Party

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(INS)—The House Un-American Activities committee today questions admitted one-time Communist Lee Pressman, former CIO chief counsel and New Deal attorney.

Pressman confirmed in a statement the charges made against him some time ago by Whittaker Chambers, former courier for a Red spy ring.

The ex-government employee conceded that he was a member of a Communist party cell in Washington from 1934 to 1935.

The attorney recently quit the American Labor party on grounds that it is following the Communist line.

In his statement acknowledging past membership in the Communist party, Pressman denied knowing whether Alger Hiss was a member.

have been directed to withdraw my message to the national encampment of the VFW."

No Statement

VFW spokesmen who refused to make an official statement reasoned that only the power of the White House would have been sufficient to force Gen. MacArthur's action.

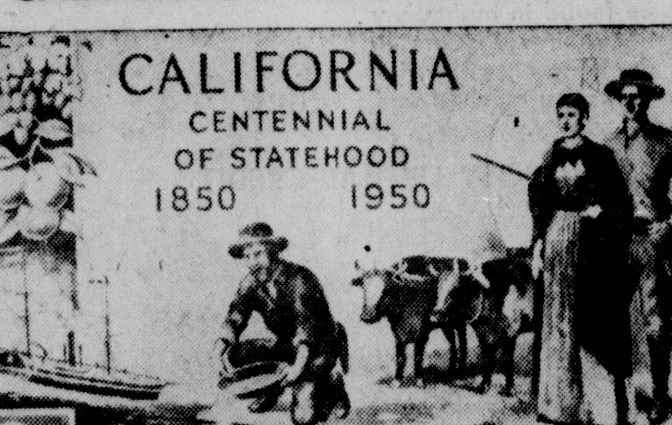

The withdrawal followed closely behind the rebuke given Secretary of the Navy Matthews by Secretary of State Acheson for making a speech which had not been cleared with the state department.

The MacArthur statement dealt with the general's views on conditions in the far east. Copies of it already had been distributed to wire services, newspapers and radio stations for release this morning.

The VFW issued a request that the MacArthur statement be withdrawn, and Lewis advised the general by cable of his action and also assured him it would not be read before he encampment session.

Probing Attacks Toward Pusan Also Repulsed

to capture the keystone port of Pusan "at all costs."

He cited evidence pointing to a supreme Red attempt to crash into and through the gateway ports of Pohang and Masan, 64 miles north and 26 miles west of the all-important Allied entry harbor of Pusan.

"Last Gas" Endeavor
The United Nations as field commander termed the present Red onslaughts a "last gas" endeavor to overwhelm the Allied beachhead before the expected UN autumn counter-offensive can be unleashed.

The South Korean Third and Capital Divisions held firm Monday under renewed heavy assaults by the Communist Fifth and 12th Divisions which captured Kigye and rammed within two miles above Pohang.

The enemy's 12th Division brought the heart of Pohang within easy reach of its siege guns. The Red 5th Division pushed the South Korean Capital Division three or more miles back Sunday before it was checked in its effort to swing around Pohang's west flank.

The Capital Division reformed its lines below fallen Kigye, which lies eight miles northwest of Pohang, and fought the Reds to a standstill as the enemy sought to reach and cut the main Pohang-Taegu highway.

Warships Aid

Standing offshore, U.S. warships belched tons of naval shells into the enemy's 12th Division forces bearing down the shoreline to Pohang's fringes. American planes bombed, rocketed and strafed the Red columns throughout the flaming Pohang-Kigye sector.

A U.S. spokesman hinted that a new North Korean division—the 14th—may be immediately behind the lines of the Eastern coastal offensive, ready to pile in if the Reds score a breakthrough at Pohang.

Troops of the U.S. 25th Division repulsed three fresh thrusts by spearheads of two or possibly three Red divisions massing for an anticipated final effort to drive through to Pusan from the west.

The famed Negro 24th Regiment beat off a pre-dawn Red "probing attack" near the road center of Haman, eight miles northwest of Masan, a few hours after it had broken up an enemy patrol.

West and southwest of Masan, the 35th and 5th Regiments smashed two other attacks, each made by a Red company.

American warships, ranging along Korea's deeply indented south coast, cannonaded the enemy columns and concentrations in direct support of the American 25th Division.

Charge Man Was Pointing Pistol

After holding a group of people at bay with a pistol in front of 1714 Hamilton street at 1:35 a. m. Sunday, Policemen H. L. Richards and Walter Bartoshek, in reply to a telephone call to headquarters, put Harold Schotzberger, of that address, under arrest.

When the police arrived he had the pistol. They ordered him to drop it. He threw it over a hedge.

When the police recovered the gun it was found empty.

His action, Schotzberger said, was due to domestic difficulty.

However, police have sworn a charge against him of violating the uniform firearms act against Schotzberger before Alderman J.C. Brice.

the founding of his medical school and unveiled a memorial plaque in Cincinnati marking the centennial anniversary.

On October 17, 1899 he was married to Miss Mary McGrath who survives him. In October 1949 he and his wife observed their golden wedding anniversary.

Dr. and Mrs. Flannery were two of the founders of the Grace Methodist Episcopal church on the South Side. In 1928 when the church merged with the mother church they returned to Epworth Methodist church in which he was active until his death. He had served upon the official board of Epworth church and served the Men's Bible class as president for a term.

He was a member of Lodge 195, Independent Order of Odd Fellows of Lawrence Encampment No. 86 of I.O.O.F. He was president of the Euclid Manor Corporation. Many years ago he was a director of the Union National Bank. He was also a member of the Greater New Castle Association.

He is survived by his widow, a son, Dr. Wilbur E. Flannery, and four grandsons. He is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Olive George, of Albany, N.Y., and Mrs. Alta Gettings of Pittsburgh, California. A son, Charles Francis Flannery, Jr., preceded him in death in 1918.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon, August 30, at three o'clock from the Epworth Methodist church. The body will lie in state at the church from noon until funeral time Wednesday. Friends may call at the Boyd funeral home on North Jefferson street from 7 to 9 tonight, and from 4:30 to 8 Tuesday afternoon and evening.

The funeral services will be in charge of Rev. Albert C. Howe, pastor of Epworth Methodist church, assisted by Rev. John L. Petrie, pastor of Mahoning Methodist church and Rev. Jennings B. Reid, pastor of Highland United Presbyterian church. Interment will be in Castle View Burial Park.

"HOW I RELIEVE DISTRESS of MONTHLY FEMALE AILMENTS which make me so nervous several days before!"

Lydia E. Pinkham's

VEGETABLE COMPOUND

"Almost every month I suffered from cramps, headache, or backache—due to female functional ailments. What bothered me most was that I'd start feeling so nervous, tense and strangely restless several days before my period."

"My druggist recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve this distress. He told me to take it regularly throughout the month to help build up resistance against such female misery. (It tastes swell in a little fruit juice.) I must say Lydia Pinkham's Compound is simply wonderful and gives me amazing relief—not only from monthly pain but pre-period nervous tension and tired, dragged-out feelings of this nature. I urge every girl and woman troubled this way to try Pinkham's Compound."

P.S. Many women prefer Lydia Pinkham's TABLETS with added iron. Handy to carry in purse.

Complete 29th Camp Year At Fred L. Rentz Y Camp

Camping for boys by the Young Men's Christian Association has come a long way since the year 1909 when J. Myron Waldorf, who was then physical director of the Y, took some 15 boys for a camping trip along the Neshannock for two weeks.

In 1921 a group of men headed by Fred L. Rentz rented the present camp along the Slippery Rock for the boys. Five or six years later Mr. Rentz bought the land and presented it to the YMCA. Since that time the camp has grown in size until today it is one of the finest camping sites to be found in the country.

1950 Camping Season
This season just closed has been the best in over 40 years of camping, according to R. L. Meermans, general secretary of the Y. In all some 238 different boys were taken care of for a total of 530 boy weeks of camping. This compares with 1949 when the attendance at the camp was 401 boy weeks.

This splendid increase in number of boys and boy weeks of camping this year has been made possible by the generous help provided by the Community Chest, service clubs and individuals interested in boys. These organizations provided funds to take care of 100 boy weeks. In addition to these boys some 56 others enjoyed at a reduced rate.

Other Camp Users
Besides the boys of the YMCA the 4-H club and the New Castle football team have the use of Camp Rentz each season. The regular season of camping combined with these two groups will mean that Camp Rentz will provide nearly 700 boy weeks of camping this season.

To get some idea of what hungry youngsters can eat in six weeks we have gathered the following list: 918 gallons of milk, 1062 loaves of bread, 1800 pounds of potatoes, 234 pounds of chicken, 268 pounds of butter, 216 dozen eggs and 960 pounds of meat.

NEVER TOO YOUNG TO CHOOSE

It was time for three-year-old Marilyn to go to bed. "Do you want to wear your blue pyjamas or your pink ones?" was the question her mother used to ask.

When Billy was due for a bath, his father gave him a chance to turn on the faucets and to decide whether the water was too warm or too cool.

What simple, almost insignificant, experiences there seem to be! Yet, they are important.

If children are given the opportunity to make choices, however simple, when they are very young, they will gradually learn to make the more important decisions when they are older.

Children, whose parents make every choice for them, have a far more difficult time when it comes to making decisions on their own as they grow older, than the children who have been given opportunities when they were younger. There are even adults who are completely bewildered when they need to buy clothes because mother has always done the selecting.

If we want our youngsters to learn to stand on their own feet, we can't begin too early. In all sorts of every day activities there are chances for them to choose. And in the choosing, they develop a feeling of self-importance that makes them easier persons with whom to live.

Runaway Automobile Kills Reading Man

READING, Pa., Aug. 28.—(INS)—A father of five was killed, and his brother-in-law seriously injured yesterday by a "ghost car" that rolled down a hill in Reading and struck an automobile which they were repairing.

The fatal victim, Gerald Miller, 27, was lying on the ground making repairs when the driverless ghost car ran wild down a steep hill and plowed into his machine. A wheel passed over Miller's chest.

Using Helicopters To Remove Wounded From Korean Front

TOKYO, Aug. 28.—(INS)—Dramatic mercy missions now are being flown almost daily by Helicopters removing wounded men from Korean battlefields to army hospitals.

One such mission was performed Saturday night when two seriously wounded soldiers—unidentified because of army regulations—were flown from near front lines to a hospital in Korea.

Ordinarily ambulances rush casualties from the battlefield to the hospital, but these men were too badly hurt to survive such a ride over rough Korean roads.

So the decision was made to use the Helicopter, although these overhead propeller ships normally are not equipped for night flying.

LT. James N. Jernigan, of Sinton, Texas, piloted his small craft with the two desperately wounded soldiers to the hospital in 10 minutes. He made a perfect landing in a small area dimly outlined by the headlights of a jeep.

In another Helicopter mission, LT. Merl A. Clapsaddle, (209 Clairmont Ave.), Westview, Pa., airlifted 50 pints of whole blood to front lines.

Training Course For Junior Scout Leaders On September 23-24

H. I. Lamphier, chairman of the Kuskuski District Training committee, has announced a training course for Boy Scout Junior leaders.

The course will be conducted at the Council Camp, Camp Agawan, on September 23 and 24.

The purpose of the course is to make available to the Junior leader of each troop further leadership training that will supplement what they receive in their own troop. It is also designed to make available the means to complete the requirements as set forth in the "Strengthen the Arm of Liberty" program.

Junior assistant scoutmasters, senior patrol leaders and patrol leaders are urged to participate.

Although conducted by members of the Kuskuski District training committee, all troops in Lawrence county are invited to participate.

The program will consist of a series of conferences, discussion groups, training films, food, recreation, and demonstration.

Do You Live In A Haunted House?

- Does "something" make your fuses blow with irritating frequency?
- Is there an "evil eye" cast on your iron—your toaster—so that they heat—oh, so slowly?
- Do lights mysteriously "blink" for no apparent reason?
- Do electric appliances act strangely—even though the repair man insists "there's nothing wrong!"?
- Do ugly tentacles creep along the baseboards?

Then, your house is haunted—by the ghost of inadequate wiring!

but you can banish this ghost!...

Yes, you CAN banish this ghost that is making your house "grow old" electrically, simply by checking a few things that are necessary for proper usage of electricity.

First check the wires which enter your house. Are there three of them? It's possible that the present wires are too small. If so, they should be replaced by larger wires. Your home's electrical needs always determine the size of wire needed. Small wires cause blinking lights and slow-working appliances... the ghosts of inadequate wiring.

So... if you've noted these symptoms in your home, don't wait! Contact a dependable electrical contractor and tell him what's haunting you, electrically. It pays to have Red Seal Adequate Wiring!

The wiring system is the heart of your home—Wire RED SEAL

Harry W. Bowen Jr. Tells Of Six-Weeks Trip Abroad

Harry W. Bowen, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Bowen, Sr., of 302 E. Moody avenue, recently returned home from a six-week tour of Europe.

All the color and atmosphere of the trip were enjoyed by thirty some students from various colleges around this area. Professor Walter Biberich, instructor of German at Westminster college, headed the tour which took in about every standard and out-of-the-way place to be seen in England, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, France, Holland, and Belgium.

Land at London
Harry relates that after the voyage on the S.S. Samaria they docked in Tilbury Docks in London where thirty very anxious and a little sea-sick students were to begin their six-week round of adventure.

From London they immediately went by bus to Bath. There they saw the famous original Roman baths and the home of Horatio Lord Nelson. During the Saturday night in Bath their guide remarked that the Pump Room was the scene of an exquisite formal dance every Saturday night. It is only fair to say that while in Europe a person takes a minimum of clothes with him. With such restriction an orange shirt, yellow sweater, and maroon pants naturally contrasted with the elegant garb of the British aristocracy when some of Biberich's charge poked a curious nose into the Saturday night Pump Room affair.

It was under the Pump Room that the Roman Baths were first discovered in 1887 and later restored. Several relics have been found in connection with the baths which tend to throw light on Roman culture during the earlier history of England.

To Stratford-on-Avon
From Bath they journeyed to Stratford-on-Avon. It was there that they saw the much visited homes of William Shakespeare and his wife, Anne Hathaway. Both being typical English homes, the tourists were exposed to the beauty and atmosphere of the English countryside.

London was the next stop and in roughly three days they saw many sights including Westminster Abbey. On one occasion they saw a Rolls-Royce driving down the streets of London and upon looking closer they saw that it contained King George VI, Queen Elizabeth, and Princess Margaret Rose.

To polish off their London visit they were fortunate to obtain tickets to a performance of the play "Street Car Named Desire" at the renowned old Aldwych Theatre.

Holland, Harry noted, was possibly the cleanest of all countries. While there he visited Amsterdam, home of the Rijksmuseum where a number of Rembrandt's paintings are on display; Rotterdam where he attended the Grand Ballet of Monte Carlo in performance of Stravinsky's ballet "Petrouska"; and The Hague, capital of Holland.

Went To Cologne
After Holland they went to Cologne which had been 98 per cent destroyed by allied bombs during the recent war. A cruise down the Rhine through the Castle country is the aspiration of every European traveler and leaving from Coblenz the group was dazzled at the pomp and obvious circumstances of the long extinct German nobility.

At Oberammergau they attended a Wednesday performance of the Passion Play. Lasting from 8:30 to 12:00 and from 2:00 to 6:00, Harry relates that from their seats (tenth row center) they could feel the 5,000 capacity audience become riveted to their seats at the entrance of Judas Iscariot in the famed portrayal of the life of Christ. The seven and one-half hour performance seemed only moments hinged with the superb acting of all the play's cast.

To Monte Carlo
Another highlight of the trip was the visit to Monte Carlo Casino in Monaco where Harry was a part of money in this melting pot of Europe. He was particularly impressed by the famed suicide cliff near the Casino where the financially embarrassed seek to end it all. He said that occasional bodies are still found at its base.

From Monaco they turned to the French Riviera, scene of typical French holiday and resort life. Harry got quite a sun tan swimming in the waters of the Mediterranean and many memories from the bleached sands and indigo waters.

Paris is the crowning glory of any tour abroad. Six days were spent there and it was then that Harry observed that night life in moderation and mingling with the people is at least half of understanding and enjoying Europe.

Sees Paris Museum

In Paris he saw the museum La Louvre which contained such art treasures as the painting of Mona Lisa, and the statues of Venus de Milo, and the Winged Victory of Samothrace. On the fourth day there they toured Versailles Palace, home of the tragic Louis XVI, and then to the Palais Fontainebleau which was the home of most of the French kings and also Napoleon Bonaparte. While there they also visited the tomb of Napoleon where they were permitted to stand in the exact spot that Hitler once stood.

Then came the time to start their long trek home and from Paris they journeyed to Rotterdam where they boarded the S.S. Europa to begin the voyage.

First of the Fine Cars in Value

Little Just how much need a really fine car cost?

YOU'LL find the answer written in the delivered price tags of this bold and strapping beauty pictured here.

It's a Buick Roadmaster—and you have only to put yourself behind the wheel to see that it is truly fine by any yardstick.

But it leaves the factory carrying the lowest price per pound of any car in the fine-car field.

That means that the money that goes into its building goes for things that really count—

For a big, husky Fireball straight-eight engine of 152 hp and all the brilliance of performance the highways can handle—

For room that measures up with the biggest, and for comfort contrived of deep soft seats and abundant space for taking it easy—

For a ride that's literally "out of this world," soft and easy as only all-coil springing can make it, yet firm and steady always, thanks to torque-tube drive—

For handling that is feather-light, for the complete smoothness of Dynaflo Drive as standard equipment, for a whole host of fine-car touches such as rich upholstery materials, flexible-spoke steering wheel, non-glare rear-view mirror, even automatic windshield washers, all included in the price.

Yes, the big question ROADMASTER answers is not how much a really fine car costs, but how little you need to pay to get all that a fine car can give.

Drop in any time on your Buick dealer for a trial ride in a ROADMASTER—and the surprisingly happy news on its delivered prices.

PRISCILLA BARNES WEDS JOHN BENNETT

Wallace Memorial Chapel of Westminster College, New Wilmington, was the setting for the marriage of Miss Priscilla Barnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Barnes, 484 Neshannock avenue, this city, to John Emerson Bennett, Greendale avenue, Edgewood, Pa., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Gordon Bennett, West Palm Beach, Fla., formerly of Edgewood.

The rite was performed Saturday, August 26, at 6:30 p. m., by Rev. J. Calvin Rose, pastor of the Second U. P. church, New Castle. Greenery and candles decorated the altar of the chapel for the occasion.

Appropriate nuptial melodies were played on the organ by Mrs. Jacob Jordan, who also accompanied the soloist, Miss David Lazear, when she sang "At Dawning" and "Because."

For the ceremony the bride wore a white suit with white accents. Her flowers were stephanotis centered with an orchid. She was given in marriage by her father, John A. Barnes.

Miss Mary E. McCoy of Butler, college friend of the bride, was maid of honor, wearing a pink suit with white accents and a corsage of white gladioli.

Dinner was served at a New Wilmington tea room after the ceremony to the immediate families.

P. & L. E. Service Is Normal Again

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 28.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad was back in regular operation today after a five-day "lockout" by the Brotherhood of Railroad Conductors.

The strike was scheduled to end at 12:01 a. m. yesterday, but workmen started returning to their jobs Friday night after President Truman ordered the nation's railroads seized.

The P. & L. E. was one of five railroads closed last week by so-called "token strikes" by the two unions which later called a nationwide rail strike to start today.

A rail tie-up was averted when President Truman ordered the carriers seized.

State Policeman Drowns In River; Two Girls Rescued

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 28.—(INS)—A state police officer was drowned and two girl entertainers were rescued in a boating mishap yesterday on the Allegheny river below the Acmetonia dam.

The body of Detective Sergeant Glenn Adams was recovered last night at 11:30 p. m., about five hours after the accident.

The rescued were Mildred Don, well-known Pittsburgh radio singer, and June Arnold, star of an ice review at the Ankara night club in Pittsburgh.

Miss Don said she and Adams and Miss Arnold were sitting in the stern of the boat when it made a sudden turn and they were tossed into the water.

They were rescued by other members of the boating party. The accident occurred just 1,000 feet below the dam where four persons lost their lives last June when a pleasure boat went over the dam.

Investigation Of Formosa Case Is Asked

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(INS)—The United States today formally requested United Nations investigation of the Formosa case and bluntly rejected charges by Communist China of U.S. aggression in Formosa.

The action was taken by President Truman in a letter to Ambassador Warren R. Austin, U.S. representative to the United Nations. The letter was dispatched after the President talked by telephone with Austin Sunday morning.

Mr. Truman outlined "seven fundamental points" on which U.S. policy toward Formosa is based. These points were contained in a communication from Austin to UN Secretary General Trygve Lie last Friday in which the United States rejected charges by the Chinese Communist government.

Kills His Wife, Ends Own Life

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Aug. 28.—(INS)—State Police said a Uniontown miner shot and killed his wife and himself last night as the couple's seven-year-old child looked on.

The victims were Chester Cole, 36, and his wife, Helen, also 36. Police said the couple had returned from a picnic shortly before the shooting.

The son, Bobby, the only one of four children home at the time, told police that his father asked his mother if she thought she could "get away with it."

She replied, "No, I don't think so," Bobby said. He said his father then got a shotgun, shot his mother and then turned the weapon on himself.

An invitation was issued to all the ladies to attend the meeting to be held on September 2, in connection with the council meeting, when the charter will be closed for the auxiliary to Council 408, organization of which will be completed at this meeting, in the parlors of the East lodge room, at The Cathedral.

The committee in charge of arrangements was composed of J. W. Anderson, chairman, Paul J. Laurel, Earl Brookover, John Lower, W. H. Blews, Jr., W. C. Wright, Robert E. Jamison, C. W. Reed, Elmer D. Nesbitt, W. J. Hove, Floyd Nowling, and Howard Tindall.

Naval Gunfire Aiding Troops

TOKYO, Aug. 28.—(INS)—United Nations ground forces on the southern end of the defense perimeter in Korea now are getting support from naval gunfire.

Headquarters announced today that a U. S. navy destroyer screened by South Korean ships fired on enemy targets on the south coast front Saturday night.

Ground forces at the eastern end of the perimeter have been receiving aid from navy guns for several weeks.

The first such action on the southern front was directed against 11 targets, headquarters said, and was "requested by shore fire control parties. Results were not listed.

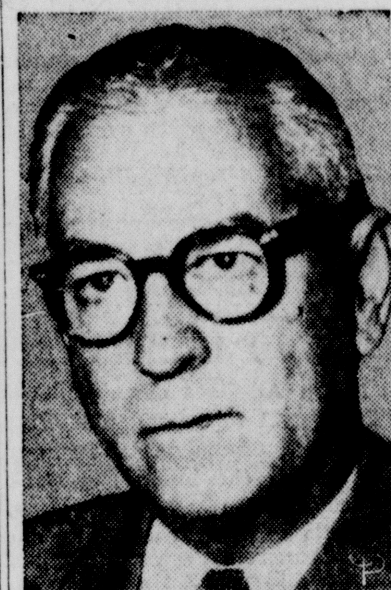

No Back Talk From North Korean Men

TOKYO, Aug. 28.—(INS)—North Korean troops do not talk back.

Far East Air Forces reported that while the first cavalrymen and airmen examined captured equipment from an annihilated North Korean patrol, one cavalryman commented that the enemy had radio receivers but no transmitter. "That seems funny," he said.

But an airman explained: "Nothing funny about that. These guys just take orders—they don't talk back."

Senators Open Three-Game Series With Niagara Falls Here Tonight

Senators Strive For Second Place Finish; Oil City Wins Two Over Weekend 14-4, 9-7

New Castle's young Senators probably wrote themselves off the first place finish in the Middle-Atlantic league, with a double reverse from Oil City over the weekend 14-4 Saturday, and 9-7 yesterday, leaving them six games behind with eleven to play.

Tonight the Senators will open a three-game series against the Niagara Falls Citizens at P. J. Flaherty Memorial Field and hope to pick up a little lost ground, on the idle Butler Tigers, in their battle for the second place spot in the circuit. Game time is 8:30 o'clock.

George Becka Goes Tonight

Manager Chuck Cronin has nominated young George Becka to take the hill tonight trying for his 14th win against seven defeats. Both New Castle veterans Joe Smolko and Frank Wagner were losers over the disastrous weekend.

New Castle meets Oil City here in four more games to end the season, Sunday, September 3, and Monday the 4th, both double bills. New Castle has four to play at Butler the last three days of this week, a crucial series that may mean second place. Oil City plays at Erie the next three days.

The only bright spots in the Senators twin-loss at Oil City were the 13th homer hit by Tommy Famiglietti yesterday, and the fifth for young Dick Ackerman in the game yesterday. Incidentally Famiglietti also had two doubles yesterday, driving in four runs.

Vizzini Hitting Well

Johnny Vizzini, the Senators rookie first-sacker continues his terrific hitting, with a three-run double in the ninth at Oil City Saturday. Vizzini for a first year man has looked great at first base and at the plate, the last official averages showing him hitting .263. Another rookie Merle Fredericks delivered a rousing double at Oil City Saturday after relieving Horne.

MANN REPLIES TO WEINGARTNER

WESLEY MANN, JR., has submitted a reply to Jim Weingartner's letter, published Thursday, concerning the selection of an All-Stars' team and its eligibility to participate in the NABF Junior tournament at Dayton, this week.

Weingartner charged that, the team which enters the tournament had to play together throughout the season and have won its sectional title.

He also said that, if the team should reach the finals, its members will be investigated as to age and residence, and added that, if any players are non-residents, the team would be disqualified.

Mr. Mann was offered space by Here & There to make reply to Mr. Weingartner's letter. His reply is as follows:

LET'S PRINT THE TRUTH

New Castle, August 25, 1950.

"A so-called Jim Weingartner has varied far from the truth. First, he says a team must win its section to go to the national tournament. Several teams appeared last year who did not win a sectional title but were given permission by the NABF officials to play.

"Through the fine efforts of City League President Len Gilbert (president during 1949), New Castle was given the permission (along with a team from Kentucky) to enter the team, although we did not have a Junior Federation league here. Therefore, boys in Lawrence county had a 'once in a life-time chance' to go to the national tournament. Every boy must have his birth certificate and thumb print to play.

"As for non-residents, they must live within 25 miles of New Castle. Thirteen out of 18 that went last year were from the city.

"A so-called Jim Weingartner says the Legion team should go. NABF rules allow a boy to play a year later than the Legion rules.

"Also, three of the best players of the Legion team are at football camp and cannot go. They are John Sansone, Ray Latsko and Bill Boak.

"They City Baseball league has the franchise and any junior team going must carry the name 'New Castle'.

"I have given four years to coaching junior baseball, and on three, four and sometimes five nights a week, I am away from my family, to help boys, 14 to 18, and never have I heard of Jim Weingartner helping.

"He calls himself a local citizen and since people support civic projects by their service or money, and we have received no service, will he please mail his money to Dick Davis or Joe Medure (Sports Editors) note: Dick Davis and Joe Medure are not involved in the controversy. They were asked to help promote a game to raise expenses for the junior team and did so because they believed it was their civic duty.

"I have made mistakes but who has not? I do not mind criticism, but it seems that she fellows who sit on their front porch every night and never give a helping hand, are the first to find fault.

(Signed) WESLEY MANN, JR.

"P.S.: Please, for the people's sake tell all the fact."

Bukowski Wins Castle Hills Championship

Stan Bukowski defeated Bob Palmer 6 and 5 Sunday in their 36-hole playoff to win the Castle Hills golf course championship for the second straight year.

Bukowski picked up six holes on Palmer in the morning round and hung onto them throughout the afternoon to win the match on the 13th hole.

Palmer had trouble with his game in the morning and Bukowski playing at one over par for the first 18 had little trouble building up his lead.

Weekly Sweepstakes At Country Club

Frank Sowersby and Frank Clary tied for first place in Saturday's handicap tournament at the New Castle Country club. Buzz Allen and Hubert Sadler came in second and third respectively in the event which was low net with full handicap.

Herman Green and B. Garrett tied for first place in Sunday's event, even holes with full handicap, with Tom Blair coming in second and Dr. Dave Updegraff third.

Grid Officials Attend Clinic

Football officials like football players do pre-season training. Over the weekend about 35 football officials, all members of the Western Pennsylvania Football Officials Association held a clinic at the Heinz House camp on the Slippery Rock Creek.

The organization is headed by Robert Angelo of Pittsburgh as president, Wilbur A. Wetzel of Pittsburgh as vice-president, William Rugh of Pittsburgh recording secretary, Thomas Lauth of Pittsburgh as treasurer, and A. L. Walsh of Pittsburgh as executive secretary.

Slippery Rock Camp Site Houses Group

Talk Over Rules

In the amphitheater of the camp the men met for several sessions, discussed changes in the rules, brought up peculiar situations that arise at times and schooled themselves afresh on the rules of the game.

Mr. Walsh, the executive secretary is well known in New Castle. He has officiated at many New Castle high school games and is known over the state as a competent official, a student of the game and an authority upon rules.

County Playoffs Bessemer Wins Pair Of Games

Eliminate Koppel; Martin Cops Both

Bessemer won two games over the weekend, 4-2 and 10-6, to eliminate the County league pennant winners from the playoffs for the league championship.

Jim Martin, Jr., received credit for both victories as he went the distance in Saturday night's game at Bessemer to win 4-2, and relieved Gog Anderson in Sunday's game at Koppel.

Anderson fanned the first seven men to face him in Sunday afternoon's contest, but wilted in the seventh from the intense heat and needed Martin's help to put the fire out.

In that seventh inning for Koppel, Mervyn Marshall hit a home run with two men on, the next two men got on base and with one out Martin came in to retire the side.

Bessemer scored all of its runs in the seventh and ninth innings. In the ninth Martin singled, Madrid singled, Harvatin drove Martin in with another single and Paul Johnson cleared the bases with a home run. Dor. Anderson followed with a single and scored on Vrabel's hit.

Ross Defeats Jones For Tennis Championship

Joe Ross once again proved the old adage of youth and stamina being triumphant over age and experience as he bested Al Jones at the Country club yesterday afternoon to become New Castle's first singles tennis champion since before the war.

Jones could not get his powerful drives and serves in often enough in yesterday's wind to cope with the chops and placements that Ross was continually throwing at him. Scores of the various sets were 8-6, 0-6, 6-3 and 6-2.

Youngstown Captain

Ross is no stranger to the tennis world, having played on a good Youngstown college team in 1947-49. In '48 the team went undefeated and extended its string of victories to 20 before losing two matches near the end of the '49 season. Joe was captain and No. 1 man during his final year.

Al Jones has been a prominent figure in New Castle tennis for the last 15 years. In 1938 and '39 he won the Lawrence county daylight tournament and was runner-up in the same event for the next two years. In 1940 and '41 Al became county champion under the lights.

Doubles Victory

After a brief rest Jones and Ross teamed up in the senior doubles and defeated Ted Lewis and Bob Jackson. The experience and court know-how of Jones and Ross were just too much for Ted and Bob to handle as they lost 6-2, 6-8, 6-1 and 6-1.

Nanny Kagnas became junior single's champion of New Castle yesterday morning by defeating Don Morrissey in straight sets, 6-1, 6-0 and 7-5.

Morrissey came back strong in the evening when he teamed up with Bruce Hemer to conquer Jack Melder and Nanny Kagnas to win the doubles championship in the under 18-year-old class, Morrissey and Hemer won in straight sets 6-4, 6-0 and 6-4.

Trophies Ordered

Winners of the senior singles and doubles as well as the junior singles will receive trophies. Don Morrissey and Bruce Hemer will receive medals for winning the junior doubles tournament. Prizes have been ordered and should be in the Sporting Goods store shortly after Labor Day.

Sunset Stops Croton 6-to-5

Sunset defeated Croton 6-5 at Flaherty field Sunday afternoon to take a 2-1 lead in American Legion Junior league championship series.

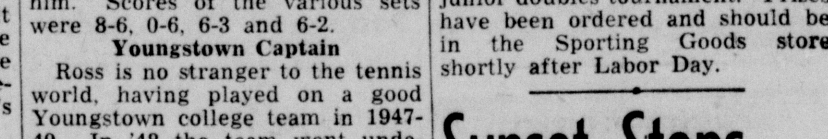

Snag Russell gave up only five hits and fanned nine while marking up the win. He was relieved by Ginochi in the ninth. Memo started for Croton but gave way to S. Cook in the eighth.

Calamo's triple with the bases loaded in the fifth inning was the big blow for Sunset.

W. Cook and Gagliardo hit doubles for Croton.

New Castle Speaks

(A Series of Discussions To Be Run Weekly, Based Upon the Ketchum Survey in New Castle)

NEW CASTLE'S OUTSTANDING ECONOMIC ADVANTAGES

(Sixth of a series)

It has been said that citizens of a city are like certain husbands—they take the little woman for granted when actually she has many qualities that are hard to beat. New Castle, for instance, has economic advantages that few of us fully appreciate. This was substantiated by the public relations study conducted by the Greater New Castle Association.

It may come as a surprise to some of us who recently have had to cancel picnic plans, but New Castle weather, compared with other sections of the country, is close to ideal. We are not a resort town but our summers are not extremely hot. Our winters are not long and severe. Our rainfall is moderate but adequate for the manufacturers find that our climate is conducive to high productivity.

New Castle is the center of the country's most concentrated market area. More than half of the population of the United States lives within a radius of 500 miles. This is an important advantage to industry, which must consider the cost of transporting products to the consumer.

Four main line railroads and many motor freight companies serve New Castle. The western extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike and the improvements in highways that radiate from our city will make this area extremely accessible to large population and distribution centers.

The wealth of fuel and raw materials in the New Castle area is another top-flight asset. We are located near some of the largest bituminous coal fields in the country. We are in the heart of the world's biggest producing center for basic steel. Water shortage, a serious problem in many United States areas, is unknown to us in New Castle because of the Pymatuning Dam.

The Greater New Castle Association study showed that the people of New Castle, themselves, are its greatest economic advantage. New Castle people have the reputation for being hard and steady workers. We can be justly proud of this reputation.

The many economic advantages New Castle has to offer make this a city which industry finds "a good place to call home."

Will Try New Method Of Judging Beauty

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., Aug. 28.—(INS)—Something new will be tried in selecting "Miss Martinsburg of 1939."

An unnamed committee of five—three men and two women—will view every woman who appears in a bathing suit at the Martinsburg war memorial swimming pool on Labor Day.

There will be no measuring, no entry blanks to sign, no parading before judges or the crowd. The girls will be judged from casual conversation and observation both on beauty and personality.

Any woman, married or single who is over 16, will be eligible. The winner will be announced at the end of the afternoon. Names of the judges will be kept a strict secret.

Automobile plants in the United States use 10½ million tons of steel a year.
